"THE HERO OF CERRO GORDO."

Editor Roundabout:

Who is there in this broad land of ours that could present to Congress the claims of the greatly neglected and overlooked Mexican Soldiers better than Jno. S. Williams, a Mexican Soldier. He could tell them of the suffering and fatigue on the march, and how they fought in the various battles, and how they triumphed over odds of five to one. And that little army was victorious in every engagement from the first battle to the fall and capture of the City of Mexico, and how the Government acquired through that war an amount of territory unequalled and unsurpassed by any war in the history of the world. He can tell Congress of the suffering and privations, together with how starvation with-barrassed some of that army here at home until death relieved them from their suffering and claimed them for his own, and after death how he was about to be buried in a pauper's grave to take his everlasting sleep.
He and he alone can tell the American Congress their sad story and picture their wrecks.

And show to Congress how they have appropriated millions of acres of land to railroad companies that was paid for by the blood of the Mexican Soldiers, and how they vote millions of dollars for steamship subsidies and the fisheries, together with a variety of other appropriations they make annually from an overloading treasury for purposes other than to give a pension to this little band of heroes, with millions of dollars in the treasury and increasing by millions every year. He might be able to present their claim as would induce the American Congress to arouse itself and act in this matter as is becoming the honor and dignity of the American Government, and pass a bill to relieve these old soldiers on their slow march to the grave, weighted down with the infirmities of old age, superinduced by the fatigues and privations they underwent while fighting their country's victorious battles in a foreign land. He could tell them all, and he alone can do it in such language that can not be equalled or surpassed by mortal man.

Kentucky could ill afford at this time to lose the service of so valuable a Senator as General Williams has been. He has rendered valuable service to the State in two instances that within themselves should be sufficient grounds for the Legislature to return him to the Senate by an unanimous vote.

He secured the passage of a bill in the Senate appropriating $100,000 for the erection of Post-office and Public Buildings in Frankfort, the capital of the first original State that entered the Union. And Kentucky, in her 90th year of age, receives at the hands of Senator Williams buildings and conveniences that should have been given many years ago. Senator Williams has worked indefatigably for Kentucky's interest to improve and open up the vast field of mineral resources she contains. In accruing appropriations for the improvement of the Kentucky river he has not stopped there but has been active and persistent to see that the money appropriated by Congress to open this great natural waterway should be properly applied and used upon the works. When the hands upon the work-received due bills for their time and were compelled to discount them at various rates of interest (as was the case with many of the men), as soon as the facts were made known to Senator Williams the men received their money promptly by order of the Secretary of War.

Thus we find Jno. S. Williams the warm and active friend of the laboring man. The man who is compelled to earn his bread by the sweat of his brow. He believes "the laborer should be worthy of his hire," and that honest labor rendered to the Government should not be discounted to procure the necessities of life for their families. It is thus we find Senator Williams in his seat in the Senate ever watchful and ready to promote the interest and welfare of his people, and to do all in his power that will elevate his State to her true position in the Union of States. The first State admitted into the Union; the fourth in revenue the fourth in assessment the eighth in population, and sixteenth in farm products is the position we find Kentucky occupying to-day.
With her vast mineral resources developed she would be but one step away from becoming the greatest State that the American flag flies over in this the constellation of States. When that day dawns upon her Kentuckians will then be able to find in Kentucky the Eldorado that so many of them have looked for in vain in the West and Northwest, and only too glad to return to old Kentucky with empty purses and disappointed expectations, as has been the case with many Kentuckians. Will the Legislature see their way clear and follow the road already blazed out by the soldier and statesman that will lead his State to her true position of renown, greatness and prosperity. Kentucky must have men in the Senate that are perfectly familiar with the wants of Kentucky and be ever ready and quick to respond to and give every assistance to the State that will promote her interest.

The whole country will remember the bill he introduced in the Senate to protect cattle from pleuro-pneumonia and other contagious diseases cattle are subject to. It will readily be seen when cattle are protected from diseases so often fatal to them, that none of the embargo levied by foreign countries on American beef will be removed and the farmer of this country will again have the market of the world open to him to sell his cattle. The farmers of the whole country are indebted to Senator Williams for the ever vigilant eye he has kept on their interest. Senator Williams is the right man in the right place and Kentucky should keep him where he is. Kentucky should be permitted to retain what little government patronage she may have enjoyed for 40 years, and not allowed to lose it as was the case with the Newport Barkers a few years ago. It was lost to Kentucky for the time until it was re-established by a petition to the Secretary of War from the business men of Cincinnati.

With Jno. S. Williams in the Senate Kentucky's interest will not only be faithfully but secretly guarded.

WM. H. MURRAY.

Between the Bridges.

Christmas is over and the boys must go to work.

Mr. and Mrs. L. Blythe called on Mr. and Mrs. Robt. Storts last Sunday.

Mrs. Frank Hackley and family have been on a visit to her mother this week.

Mr. Richard Carter and niece, of Ala., are visiting Mrs. J. H. Thacher of this vicinity.

Misses Lela and Fattie Tinsley and Prof.
Carter called on Miss Annie Johnson Sunday evening.

Mr. T. B. Johnson, of Graefenburg, who has been very ill for several days is slowly recovering.

Prof. Carter went to Anderson county Monday and returned Tuesday night just in time to miss the canvassing.

Miss Sallie Sharp spent the afternoon with Misses Lela and Fattie Tinsley Thursday, and what a pity job wasn't at home.

Dr. Hudson, of Frankfort, passed through our town Wednesday on his way to see a patient near Peyton Shelby county.

Mr. J. J. Smith returned to this neighborhood last Saturday from a visit to his mother, and called on his girl Sunday evening.

Mr. T. B. Johnson has moved the toll-gate from the brick-house to Tom Bily's, so Tom will have to quit preching and keep the gate.

The Misses Wiggs and Tinsley and Messrs Smith, Blythe Jenkins and Wiggs were the guests of Miss Jennie Darlington Tuesday night.

Ladies, remember this is leap year and make good use of your time, and perhaps another Christmas rolls round there will be fewer old maids and old bachelors in our community.

Baskin Johns, a young man who was partly raised in our neighborhood, but moved away several years ago and is now in the revenue bureau, passed through our town one evening last week and stayed over night with
S. M. Tinsley, Esq. We have known Mr.
Johns from his boyhood and say without flattery that he has richly merited the position he now occupies.

S. M. and O. Tinsley went to Frankfort Wednesday and had the deed made for the land lately purchased by them of the Mouring heirs. And notwithstanding their absence and the severe weather their teams are daily delivering fifty barrels of corn to W. H.
McBrye's distillery. Good for the Tinsleys, we need more such persevering and energetic men to have our whole community prosperous.

PUNCH & JUDY.

Bridgeport.

The moving business has commenced.

Rawley Armstrong's infant has the dysptheria.

The moving business is in a prosperous condition in this section.

Not a drunken man seen in our midst during the holidays. We still hold the fort.

Dr. George M. Reddish, of Louisville, visited his sister, Mrs. Mattie Hawkins, last Sunday.

No better time to turn over a new leaf than the commencement of a new year. So here goes.

The usual number of dining parties and dances occurred during the holidays. All passed off quietly.

Mr. Dunlap, of the firm of Halt, Dunlap & Co., leather dealers, Louisville, was in the village last Tuesday.

Mr. Ezra Cook and Miss Emma Moreland, of Shelby county, spent several days in this vicinity during the holidays.

Mr. W. T. Wilson and wife, of Louisville, were visiting friends and relatives in this section during the past week.

Miss Lucy Pattie, of Texas, attended the funeral of her father last Monday, having previously been summoned to his sick bed.

Mr. De Lear and wife, of Illinois, spent last Saturday and Sunday in this vicinity, the guests of Mr. J. W. Jackson and family.

Mr. J. H. Bailey and Col. F. M. Scofield, U. S. Storekeepers, now stationed at Frankfort, took in the village last Sunday, much to the satisfaction of their many friends in this section.

We attended the reunion of the correspondents of the ROUNDABOUT last Saturday, and can safely say we have seldom spent a more pleasant time. May all hands live to enjoy many of these reunions.

The dance given in this place last Monday night, under the management of Messrs.
Coley Crockett and Phil. Parent, was of the most quiet and orderly character. No roudy-ism or drunkenness perceptible. Suffice it to say everything passed off to the satisfaction and full enjoyment of all present.

Mr. William Pattie, an old and highly respected citizen of this county, died at his home, Farandale, last Sunday, Dec. 30, 1883, after a short illness with pneumonia. He leaves several children and grandchildren to mourn his loss, besides a large number of other relations and friends. May this affliction be blessed to the good of all concerned.

On Thursday evening Miss Maudie Hawkins, daughter of J. E. Hawkins, jr., gave an entertainment at her father's to the young folks of the neighborhood, at which fun and frolic reigned. On Tuesday next she will return to Louisville, where she is a pupil of the High School.

Antioch.

What a pleasant time we had on the 29th.

Mr. W. F. Jenkins is very sick with pneumonia.

A happy new year to the readers of the ROUNDABOUT.

Miss Lamer Glore spent Tuesday with her sister, Kate Shackelford.

Misses Belle and Kittie Owen were the guests of Mrs. Robt. Owen Tuesday.

Mr. Frank Thompson, of Paris, has been visiting Mr. Fred Smith and family.

Mr. R. J. Shannon and wife spent Christmas with Mrs. S. father, in Shelby.

Misses Martha and Anne Masters were the guests of Miss Mary Gayhart Tuesday.

Mrs. Sallie Stivers and daughter, Miss Agnes, were the guests of Mrs. James Glore last Saturday.

Master George Lee Glore, of Louisville, spent several days with his uncle, James Glore, this week.

Miss Susie Owen, who has been staying with her aunt, Mrs. Carter Hale, in Belle Point, is at home again.

Miss Frances Fink and sister, from the Big Eddy, spent Christmas week with their aunt, Mrs. Butler Glore.

Miss Mary Lee Glore, who is now a student in the Deaf and Dumb Institute at Danville, is improving very rapidly, judging from the letters she writes home.

Mr. James Glore and family, Mrs. Noah Goin, Miss Lily Goin, Mr. James Miller, and Mr. T. H. Hunter took their Christmas dinner with Mr. George Shackelford and family.

Mr. George Shackelford caught a grouse red and grey fox, which made its escape on Wednesday, having a log chain around his neck. He since has been recaptured and is for sale at the toll-gate.

The young folks have had a merry time of it this Christmas. On the night of the 26th Mrs. Kate Shackelford gave a social on the night of the 27th a dance at Wm.
Polgore's on the 28th a dance at Mat Chisolin's, and a social at Wm. Masters on the 31st. Miss Mary Gayhart gave her young friends a social. All of them were largely attended.

In last Saturday's Courier-Journal I noticed that Col. Allen, of the K. M. L., in his remarks before the Teachers' Association, styles the teachers of the common schools as a worthless set. Why? Simply because through the negligence and apathy of our officers, the school funds have been drained away; been misappropriated, etc. This gives the gallant Colonel an opportunity of venting his spleen and grossly insulting the thousands of ladies and gentlemen throughout the State, many of whom could give credit and honor even to so grand a concern as the K. M. L. Col. Allen, like all or nearly all of our high school men, takes the wrong view of our school system. They seem to forget that it was intended for the poor children of the State, whose parents were not able to send them to Col. A's pet concern. He speaks slightly of the dog tax. Now I venture the assertion that if all the taxes due on dogs in the State were assessed and collected, and tendered to Col. A. as an appropriation by the State to the K. M. L. he would not refuse it, because it was the dog tax. Now if the Colonel, instead of insulting the teachers, will unite with them in demanding that our officers faithfully and honestly perform their duties he will find that there are a good many $200, $500 and $700 teachers in the ranks of the common school teachers of Kentucky, and he will not be under the necessity of importing teachers for the K. M. L.

FRANKFORT ROUNDABOUT.

Entered at the post-office at Frankfort, Kentucky as second class available matter.

GEORGE A. LEWIS.
Editor and Publisher.

FRANKFORT, JANUARY 5, 1884.

Our music loving citizens will have a treat next Tuesday evening, Jan. 8th. The Boston Co. concert company will appear at the Opera House.

The new Opera House is all that could be desired in point of beauty and convenience of arrangement, but it is sadly deficient in heat and light. The light in the gallery and balcony is such that one can hardly read a programme, and when the weather is at all cold the temperature in the hall is so low that the audience actually suffers from cold, and on the opening night, as well as Wednesday night of this week, many persons were compelled to leave on account of it. The furnaces have proven entirely inadequate to heat the hall and should be taken out at once and some other mode of heating resorted to, as it is an imposition to require the lease to pay rent for the hall when he cannot induce the amusement loving public to go into it on account of its being so uncomfortable. Steam for heating purposes is convenient and can be obtained at small cost, why not put it in?

The City Council has had placed in the Fire Engine House a heating apparatus by means of which the water in the engine is kept nearly at the boiling point, and in case of an alarm, if the engine should only have to run out to the cistern at the corner of St. Clair and Main street, there will be steam sufficient in the boiler to begin work as soon as the hose are laid. The contrivance consists of a small wrought iron boiler with a furnace underneath, with two pipes leading to the engine. The water is heated in the boiler and kept circulating back and forth through the pipes from the boiler to the engine. The attachment of the pipes to the engine is made in such a manner that when it leaves the house to go to a fire the pipes detach themselves, the valves are closed and water in the pipes thrown back into a tank which supplies the boiler, all by an automatic arrangement. Very little fuel is required to run the heater, one shovel full of coke being sufficient to keep the fire going six hours.

The whole arrangement is homemade. The boiler, being the first one ever made in this city, was manufactured by Messrs Ferguson & Meek, at the Capital Machine Works, and the other work was also executed by them. Bids were received by the Council from Cincinnati and Louisville parties, but our home boys, bid being less than the others they were awarded the contract and have executed the job in first class style.

The drawing of Messrs. Harris & Herrmann and Klass & Co., to decide who should receive the presents offered by them to their customers, came off Monday. That of Messrs. Klass & Co. took place in the morning and was decided by two gentlemen being called in, who took all the numbers which had been given away, placed them in a box, thoroughly mixed them together, and one of the gentlemen held the box up over his head, while a third, who happened to come in, reached up and took from the box one number, which it was agreed beforehand, should be the one to draw the prize—a fine nickel plated range. Fifty-six was the lucky number taken out, and the ticket bearing the corresponding number was held by Mr. Will. A. Gaines, Jr., who resides on the Owenpike place, two miles from the city.

In the afternoon Messrs. Harris & Herrmann's drawing came off at the Court-house in the presence of a large audience. Two wheels were provided, into one of which the three prizes and a number of blanks were placed, and in the other all the numbers which had been given away. A committee from the audience, composed of Messrs. H. H. Murray, B. B. Jeffers, Jos. Staten, John Tobin, Major Thos. J. Hutchison and Dr. Alvin Duvall, were placed in charge of the drawing to see that it was conducted fair. A little girl was placed by one wheel and a little boy at the other, and the drawing began. The first prize that came out was the $75 cooking range. Ticket No. 7306 drew it, and it was held by a colored man living in Shelby county, who had made a purchase of a gum coat about an hour before the drawing began, when it was given him. No. 7427, held by Miss Pattie Roberts Thomason, little daughter of Mrs. E. T. Thomason, next drew the $500 piano, and then 4030, held by Mr. Buck Keenan, took the $100 set of walnut furniture.

At the meeting of the City Council Tuesday night the annual election of city officers took place, when all the incumbents were re-elected, except City Assessor, Mr. Thos. J. Hutchison being elected to that position.

Dr. Sam. James and Mr. C. E. James, Insurance Agent, have removed their offices from the Duvall building to Judge Jett's building, next the Yeoman office. The former takes the front room down stairs and the latter the room up stairs lately occupied by Messrs. Scott & French.

The raffie for the presents given away to his customers by Mr. Phil. Selbert will take place at his jewelry store, on St. Clair street, next Wednesday evening, January 11th, and all those who have made purchases from him to the amount of five dollars are entitled to a chance.

The Fire.

Yesterday morning about half past four a fire broke out in the bakery in the rear of Mr. Stephen Fuhs' confectionery and spread rapidly. The Fire Department were on hand promptly and had steam up ready to go to work as soon as the engine left the house but before it could be gotten in position at the cistern a coil of pipe inside the boiler exploded with a loud report and of course the machine was useless. The old engine, the New Era, was quickly brought out and fired up, but the delay occasioned by the accident was long enough to give the flames a good start, and in a short time the buildings occupied by S. Fuhs as a confectionery, Jas. F. Gibbons as a saloon and restaurant, belonging to V. Kallenbren, together with those occupied by Wm. Mandeville as a barber shop and Henry Samuel as a barber shop, were soon completely destroyed, and the buildings occupied by Jerome Weitzel, Jr., as a saloon and L. Weitzel as a confectionery badly damaged, the latter four all the property of Mr. L. Weitzel. The rear of the building occupied by Mr. Phil. Selbert's as a jewelry store and residence, the property of Mr. Dan. Meagher, sr., was also considerably damaged.

The flames spread so rapidly that the family of Mr. Jas. Gibbons, who occupied the second story of his establishment as a residence barely escaped with their lives, having no time to secure any portion of their clothing or furniture. Mr. Selbert's family were also compelled to leave in a hurry.

The loss so far as we have been able to ascertain it is as follows:

V. Kallenbren on buildings, $0, 500; insurance $10, 000.
L. Weitzel on buildings $8, 000; insurance, $4, 500. On stock, $2, 000; insurance $2, 000.
Dan. Meagher, sr., on building, $400; insurance $3, 500.
S. Fuhs, on stock $2, 500; insurance $1, 000.
Jas. F. Gibbons, on stock and furniture, $1, 500; insurance $500.
Phil. Selbert, on furniture, $300, fully insured.
Wm. Mandeville, on furniture, $800; insurance, $1, 000.
Chas. Stolls, on furniture, $500; fully insured.
Henry Samuel, on furniture, $100, fully insured.

Jerome Weitzel, Jr., on stock and furniture, $3, 000; insurance $200.

A negro man by the name of Edmund Kennedy, who has already served one or two terms in the penitentiary, was arrested during the fire for stealing bottles of whisky from Mr. Gibbons' saloon.

The following resolutions, complimentary to our Board of School Trustees and Col. Thos. B. Ford were adopted by the State Teachers' Association in session in Louisville December 26th, 27th, and 28th:

WHEREAS, E. Whitesides, W. S. Dehoney and D. L. Haly, Trustees of the Public School of Frankfort have brought suit in the courts to recover to the School Fund the amount of money which they believe to be due it from the tax on railroads and corporations; and whereas, Thomas B. Ford, of the same place, has volunteered to prosecute the same without charge; therefore Be it resolved, 1. That the Kentucky State Teachers' Association cordially approve and endorse the action of the said trustees in making this test case for the benefit of the children of the State.
2. We earnestly hope the courts having jurisdiction of this case will decide the points at issue without delay.
3. That the thanks of the teachers and friends of education throughout the State are due and are hereby tendered the said trustees and Thos. B. Ford of Frankfort.

During the session of the Association Col. Thos. B. Ford, of this city, delivered an address upon the subject of common school finances which was loudly applauded and pronounced one of the finest speeches of the session.

The world combination drew a good audience to the Opera House Monday evening. The scenic effect of the piece was very good.

The military companies of this city are requested to participate in the corner stone ceremonies on Monday afternoon at 2 o'clock.

There will be an orator supper given at the Court-house on Friday evening, January 11th, for the benefit of Capital Lodge, No. 260, of this city.

Mrs. John W. Hupe has received from the Knights of Honor $2,000 insurance upon the life of her late husband, who was a member of that organization.

There will be a meeting of the Royal Templars at the photograph gallery of H. G. Mattern on Monday evening, at 7 o'clock. Business of importance will be transacted.

The case of The Planters' National Bank of Louisville vs. Pepper, &c., has been compromised. This is the case in which the Bank was endeavoring to make Col. R. P. Pepper, Messrs. S. Black, Geo. W. Gwin and A. C. Keenan, securities of Jas. W. Batchelor, Cashier of the Bank, responsible for the defalcation of Louis Rehm, the Teller. By the terms of the compromise the securities pay to the bank $6,500.

The charming little actress, Julia A. Hunt, appeared at the Opera House Tuesday and Wednesday evenings. The audiences were not large, owing in a great measure to the low temperature of the hall, but those who were present enjoyed the performances very much indeed.

Personal.

Miss Fannie Bowden, of Russellville, is visiting Miss Florence Barrett, South Side.

Miss Ann Richardson, who has been very ill, has improved sufficiently to be able to sit up.

Mr. Will. Richardson left Tuesday for Nashville, Tennessee, to attend Commercial College.

Mrs. Wm. M. Saffell left Thursday for Washington City to visit Mrs. John G. Carlisle.

Miss Mamie Rinker, of Louisville, is visiting the family of her uncle, A. B. Norwood.

Miss Florence Barrett returned Monday from a two weeks' visit to friends in Russellville.

Mr. W. L. McEwan will return to college at Princeton, New Jersey, on Monday.

Mr. Austin J. Kendall is lying very ill at his home on Broadway with no hopes of recovery.

Mrs. Craft, of Lagrange, spent several days in this city the first of the week, visiting friends.

Mr. N. M. Casey is at home from New Orleans, and will remain several days, visiting his family.

Mr. Pat. McDonald, Jr., who has been spending the holidays with his parents in this city, returned to school at St. Mary's College the first of the week.

NOTICE.

HAVING BOUGHT OF MR. P. NEWMAN HIS entire stock of millinery goods, I will still continue the same business at the old stand formerly occupied by Mrs. C. E. Ward. Thanking the public for past favors, I earnestly desire to inform the public of the same.
MRS. MAGGIE J. HALLINAN.
Frankfort, January 1, 1884.

Having sold my entire stock of millinery goods to Mrs. Maggie J. Hallinan, I hereby notify all parties who are indebted to me to please call and settle promptly, as I am compelled to leave money. All persons who have claims against me will please present them for payment. In retiring from the business, I take this method of informing the public of the generous patronage which they have given me, and hope they will continue the same, under the new management.
F. H. NEWMAN.

The Furnaces at the Opera House have been changed and the Hall can be made as warm as desired.

Rev. B. F. Hangerford will preach at the Christian Church at Bridgeport Sunday morning at 11 o'clock. All are invited.

Mr. Geo. B. Macklin has received from the Lexington & Carter County Coal Company a sample car of Mt. Savage coal from their Muske Mines, which he is introducing in this market. It is a first rate article of grate coal, and makes a beautiful fire.

Misses Josie and Fannie Murphy kept open house on Tuesday and received a large number of callers. They were assisted by Misses Lizzie Rodman and Kate Sanders, of this city, and Misses Jennie Mattie and Willie Robb, of Woodford county. An elegant lunch was spread, of which all who called partook and greatly enjoyed.

On Monday evening Capitol Lodge, No. 6, I. O. O. F., elected the following officers for the ensuing six months:

- S. T. Pence, Noble Grand.
- W. H. Williams, Vice Grand.
- N. F. Richardson, Treasurer.
- W. S. Dehoney, Secretary.
- B. F. Firestone, Host.

Corner Stone Ceremonies.

In compliance with the request of Capt. D. A. Murphy the corner stone of the new Government Building will be laid with Masonic ceremonies on Monday afternoon at 2 o'clock. Governor Knott has been appointed proxy of the Grand Master of the State and will conduct the ceremonies. Col. J. Stoddard Johnston acting as Grand Marshal.

The procession will be formed at 1 1/2 o'clock on St. Clair street, the right resting on Main, in the following order: 1. Platoon of Police; 2. Band; 3. Military Companies; 4. City Council and other organizations; 5. Frankfort Commandery, No. 4. 6. Hiram and Esoteric Lodges; 7. Gov. Knott and Orator of the Day, Hon. J. C. S. Blackburn, in carriage.

The procession will move east on Main street to Ann; south on Ann to Clinton; east on Clinton to High; thence on High to Governor's Mansion; thence to Broadway; west on Broadway to Washington; south on Washington to Wapping; thence east on Wapping to site of building. Arriving at building the following ceremonies will take place, prayer by Rev. J. M. Lewis, laying of corner stone by Gov. Knott; address by Hon. J. C. S. Blackburn.

Meeting of Correspondents.

In accordance with the suggestions of our Point Pleasant correspondent, the correspondents of the Roundabout met at this office Saturday at 12 o'clock. The following gentlemen were in attendance:

- Antioch—Thos. Hunter.
- Bridgeport—C. H. Parent.
- Flag Fork—J. R. Harrod.
- Flat Creek—W. L. Lee.
- Harp—A. C. Scott.
- Jacksonville—J. C. Thary.
- Lelandon Bridge—Jas. Roberts.
- Point Pleasant—R. J. Shanon.
- Switzer—J. H. Switzer.

After spending a short time in pleasant conversation and making the acquaintance of each other, they repaired to the dining saloon of Messrs. Sower & Alder and partook of a lunch which had been prepared for them. After dinner they returned to the office, when a business meeting was organized and the following proceedings had:

FRANKFORT, KY., Dec. 29, 1883.

At a meeting of the correspondents of the FRANKFORT ROUNDABOUT, held in the Editor's sanctum, the following business was transacted: R. J. Shannon was called to the chair and C. H. Parent appointed Secretary. A committee of four, consisting of J. R. Harrod, T. Hunter, A. C. Scott and C. H. Parent, was appointed, who reported the following:

Whereas, The Roundabout having filled a vacuum in the literary world for some years past by persistently ignoring politics and publishing news, social, religious and otherwise, therefore

Resolved, That in the future, as in the past, we will contribute our support by correspondence and otherwise as will best enhance the interest of the publisher and readers.

Resolved, That we recommend the Roundabout to the reading public as a bold, fearless, and spicy paper, well united to the family circle.

Resolved, That our thanks are due the kind Editor for the sumptuous reprint and other acts of kindness shown on this occasion.

Resolved, That a copy of these proceedings be furnished the Roundabout with a request that the same be published.

R. J. SHANNON,

Chairman.

C. H. PARENT,

Secretary.

After the adjournment of the meeting the best looking, by long odds, of all our editorial corps put in appearance, and we are sure that the younger gentlemen who were in attendance, especially our young friend from Switzer, will regret their haste to get away when they learn that they missed an opportunity of forming the acquaintance of one of the prettiest young ladies in the county—our correspondent from "Between the Bridges." We were very agreeably surprised when she made herself known, as we were under the impression that another person—one of the sterner sex—was kindly taking the trouble to send us a long letter each week from that neighborhood.

Just here we want to say to the gentleman who called at the office in our absence, before the meeting took place, and afterwards while we were absent at dinner, and stated that he was a correspondent, that we regret exceedingly we did not meet him. As he was personally unknown to us he must not think he was slighted intentionally, and we want him to come in the next time he is in the city so that we can make things right.

As this was the first annual reunion of our correspondents we hope that all enjoyed it sufficiently to come again, and it shall not be our fault if they do not have another opportunity, when we hope to meet every one who has taken the trouble to send us the news from their neighborhood.

AMUSEMENTS.

Boston Concert Company

The celebrated Boston Concert Company will appear at the Opera House on Tuesday evening, January 8th, and the lovers of real first class music should bear it in mind, as they appear only at Lexington, Louisville and this city when they return North. Following are a few of the many complimentary notices of the press:

Miss Alma Faunce proves to be one of the best young pianists that we have heard, this season. Her playing of the piano solo in Haydn's trio being noticeably fine.—Boston Home Journal.

The famous "Temple Quartette" of Boston, appeared at Music Hall, Wednesday and Thursday evenings. Such harmony, delicate shading, perfect vocal manipulation and absolute unanimity of phrasing, has never been equaled by a male quartette before a Detroit audience as was done by Messrs. Dateman, Webster, Cook and Ryder.—Detroit Chief, Nov. 25, 1883.

Mrs. Humphrey-Allen delighted, as always, by the delicious purity and rare emotional quality of her voice. Her work in the "Hymn of Peace" was thoroughly beautiful, and can hardly have separate mention of numbers because so uniformly good. Her soaring flight to the high note in "The Night is Departing," called irresistibly for applause, but it was no better than her first solo, or than her part in the duet. Mrs. Allen is indeed one of the best of American sopranos.—Springfield Republican.

M. Adamowski proved to be a violinist of most excellent quality. His playing is entirely free from mannerisms, his phrasing is broad, his execution clear and clear, and his intonation perfect. We have had few violinists who have played with greater delicacy, and at the same time with greater manliness. His style resembles Wilhelm's in its repose and confidence. The audience speedily recognized his merits, and broke into frequent applause during his first act.—Boston Daily Advertiser, Oct. 25, 1879.

The Spanish Students.

This justly celebrated company of artists will give one of their performances in this city on Wednesday evening, January 9th assisted by Mr. D. W. Roberts with his 'Tumblerion', and Mr. J. J. Hays, in his refined dialect and humorous recitations.

Their instruments are mandolin and guitars. The combination of sound produced by these instruments could not be imagined until they were heard. The movement of the Spanish airs is most infectious; the music is weird and strange in its general character, and, at times irresistible recall. "Carmen." But what is more astonishing than anything is the perfect promptitude and precision with which these instruments are struck. Thomas' orchestra, at its best, cannot excel the Spanish Students in accuracy of tempo, and the effect of the strings, as handled by them, is something in describable. The first selection brought down the house, and it seemed as though the audience would not consent to let them go.—Brooklyn Eagle.

The Royal Japs.

On Thursday evening, January 10th, our citizens will be given an opportunity of witnessing one of the novel entertainments of the above company, The Courier-Journal has this to say of them:

As a thoroughly novel, unique and amusing entertainment, the opening performance of the Imperial Dragon Troupe of Japanese at the Opera House was a complete success. Probably the curtain never rose on just such a scene before. The stage was handsomely decorated in the fantastic Japanese style, and the members of the troupe, in their queer but rich costumes, with their absurd jestures and comical movements, performed such marvelous feats of skill and strength that the audience was not only impressed with the spectacular effect, but was amazed at the wonderful antics of the strange foreigners. Every act was greeted with enthusiastic applause. The great beauty of the whole thing is that the "Japs" are given full control of the stage, and they go through the performance exactly as they would were they in their native island. The girls are genuine courtesies in America, and are with rare exceptions, perhaps none, the only Japanese women who ever visited this country. The programme consists of juggling, dancing, wrestling, balancing, and similar feats, and needs no description beyond saying that all its features are excellent.

Sufferers from nervousness, early decay, etc., if you value life, avoid advertising doctors and medicines that act on kidneys and liver. Be not deceived by the many bogus certificates of cures from paid or imaginary persons. If a weakness of the sexual system is the cause of your distress, Dr. Guyot's Yellow Dock and Sassaaparilla will strengthen the parts affected, stop the drain, quiet the nerve, produce dreamless slumber and allow you to regain perfect health. It has cured thousands, and will cure you, for by purifying the blood and strengthening every weak portion of the body, it removes every symptom of distress.
